Vision and Mission

Thick present is a way to think of the time and space that we inhabit. It is a way to recognize the web of intricate and terrifying connections that pervade our collective reality. It is an expanded timescale that includes the stories of struggles and transformations that go back hundreds of years as well as lives and deaths of several future generations which are shaped today. As Donna Haraway describes it, the thick present is “a tentacular web of troubling relations that matter now”.

A thick present makes visible our interconnectedness, its blessings, and troubles, and it calls us to recognize “who we are bound up with and in what ways.”

Stichting Thick Present explores this interconnectedness through its programs and exhibitions. It functions as a platform for collective exchange of knowledge and affect. It promotes critical reflection and radical imagination and tries to create new moments of care.
